During 2010, the Company entered into an asset management agreement with TitanStar Capital Corp. (the "Asset Manager"), pursuant to which the Asset Manager will provide asset management, administrative and other services to the Company and its subsidiaries. TitanStar Capital Corp. is a corporation owned by TitanStar Investment Group Inc., which is owned by T. Richard Turner, Chief Executive Officer of the Company. The Company has the right to terminate the asset management agreement at any time upon 60 days notice. The Asset Manager is entitled to a monthly advisory fee. On the date on which the Company attains an asset base with a gross book value of $200 million the Asset Manager is entitled to an annual advisory fee of 0.3% of the gross book value of the assets, payable monthly.

Also in 2010, the Company granted to the Asset Manager options to purchase 100,000 common shares (note 6). Each option will allow the Asset Manager to purchase one common share at a price of $0.35 per share from the date of issuance until the fifth anniversary of the issuance of such options.

11. Risk management and fair values

The main risks that arise from the Company's financial statements are liquidity risk, interest rate risk, credit risk and foreign exchange risk. The Company's approach to managing these risks is summarized below.

Management's risk management policies are typically performed as a part of the overall management of the Company's operations. Management is aware of risks related to these objectives through direct personal involvement with employees and outside parties. In the normal course of its business, the Company is exposed to a number of risks that can affect its operating performance. Management's close involvement in operations helps identify risks and variations from expectations. The Company has not designated transactions as hedging transactions to manage risk. As a part of the overall operation of the Company, management considers the avoidance of undue concentrations of risk.

11. Risk management and fair values (continued)

These risks and the actions taken to manage them include the following:

Liquidity risk:

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company cannot meet its financial obligations associated with financial liabilities in full. The Company's source of liquidity is its equity. The risk with issuing new capital is that the capital markets may not be receptive to an equity issue with financial terms favourable to the Company. The funds are primarily used to finance working capital and are adequate to meet the Company's financial obligations associated with financial liabilities.

Pursuant to the Sahara Crossing, LP limited partnership agreement, as amended, the Company is required to provide additional contributions of US$874,295 to the partnership on or before January 31, 2013.

Interest rate risk:

Interest rate risk is the risk that changes in market interest rates may have an effect on the cash flows associated with some financial instruments, known as interest rate cash flow risk, or on the fair value of other financial instruments, known as interest rate price risk. The Company invests in short-term investments that may be cashed prior to maturity.

There is interest rate risk associated with the loan payable in the joint venture as the interest is impacted by changes in the prime rate. If interest rates would have been 1% higher (or lower) for the three and six months ended October 31, 2012, the Company would have higher (or lower) share of income (loss) of joint ventures included in net income or loss of approximately $4,300 and $8,800 (three and six months ended October 31, 2011 - $4,400 and $8,700).

The sensitivity analysis does not take into consideration that the Company's assets and liabilities are actively managed. Additionally, the financial position of the Company may vary at the time that any actual market movement occurs or be mitigated by management actions to reduce exposure to risks.

Other limitations in the sensitivity analysis include the use of hypothetical market movements to demonstrate potential risk that only represent the Company's view of possible near-term market changes that cannot be predicted with any certainty; and the assumption that all interest rates move in an identical fashion.

11. Risk management and fair values (continued)

Credit risk:

Credit risk arises from the possibility that debtors may be unable to fulfill their commitments. For a financial asset, this is typically the gross carrying amount, net of any amounts offset and any impairment losses. The Company has credit policies to address credit risk on accounts receivable, which may include the analysis of the financial position of the debtor and review of credit limits. The Company also may review credit history before establishing credit and review credit performance. An allowance for doubtful accounts or other impairment provisions are established based upon factors surrounding credit risk, historical trends and other information.

A financial asset is past due when a debtor has failed to make a payment when contractually due. The Company has no financial assets that are past due and does not have an allowance for doubtful accounts receivable.
Foreign exchange risk:

Foreign exchange risk is the risk that changes in foreign exchange rates may have an effect on future cash flows associated with financial instruments. The Company is exposed to foreign exchange risk as its joint ventures investments undertake their economic activities in U.S. currency. Changes in the applicable exchange rate may result in a decrease or increase in foreign exchange income or loss. The Company may enter into forward exchange contracts to manage part of the foreign exchange risk exposures denominated in U.S. currency, but has no forward contracts as at October 31, 2012. The Canadian dollar equivalent of monetary assets and liabilities held by the Company that are denominated in U.S. dollars are as follows:

	October 31, 2012	October 31, 2011
Cash	$ 31,696	$ 200,802
Advances to joint venture	2,214,040	1,814,249

11. Risk management and fair values (continued)

If the Canadian dollar had strengthened 5 percent against the U.S. dollar with all other variables held constant, the Company would have additional income from foreign exchange included in net income or loss for the three month period ended October 31, 2012 of approximately $1,600 (October 31, 2011 - $10,000) and additional income (or loss) from currency translation adjustments of joint ventures included in other comprehensive income or loss for the three month period ended October 31, 2012 of approximately $418,700 (October 31, 2011 - $420,400). If the Canadian dollar had weakened 5 percent against the U.S. dollar with all other variables held constant, the Company would have additional loss from foreign exchange included in net income or loss for the three month period ended October 31, 2012 of approximately $1,600 (October 31, 2011 - $10,000) and additional loss from currency translation adjustments of joint ventures included in other comprehensive income or loss for the three month period ended October 31, 2012 of approximately $418,700 (October 31, 2011 - $420,400). The foreign currency exchange rate sensitivity in comprehensive income or loss is attributable to a change in the translation of monetary assets and liabilities, and interest in joint ventures, denominated in U.S. dollars.

The sensitivity analyses do not take into consideration that the Company's assets and liabilities are actively managed. Additionally, the financial position of the Company may vary at the time that any actual market movement occurs or be mitigated by management actions to reduce exposure to risks.

Other limitations in the above sensitivity analyses include the use of hypothetical market movements to demonstrate potential risk that only represent the Company's view of possible near-term market changes that cannot be predicted with any certainty; and the assumption that all interest rates move in an identical fashion.

Fair values:

The fair value of cash, amounts receivable and accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximates their recorded value. Fair value is an estimate of the amount at which items might be exchanged in an arm’s length transaction between knowledgeable willing parties who are under no compulsion to act. Fair value should not be interpreted as an amount that could be realized in immediate settlement of the instruments. The estimate of fair value at year-end may not represent fair values at any other date. The determination of fair value is also affected by the use of judgment and by uncertainty.

12. Events after the reporting period

Subsequent to period end, the Company arranged for a $25 million revolving equity bridge loan facility with Romspen Investment Corporation ("Romspen"). Pursuant to a loan facility agreement, the Company may, from time to time, draw down on the loan facility for the purposes of acquiring new real estate assets, subject to the terms and conditions thereto. Any indebtedness under the loan facility will incur interest at 10% per annum, and will be secured against the Company's interest in such new real estate assets (subject to the prior consent of any senior lenders), a second-ranking general assignment of all present and future rents with respect to leases in such real estates, a first-ranking all-assets general security agreement, and a specific assignment of the Company's interest in material agreements pertaining to such real estate assets. Additionally, the Company will pledge its interest in any holding subsidiary or limited partnership through which its existing or any future real estate assets are held. The credit facility has a term of two years, and the Company must, within the first year of such term, repay 50% of any amounts drawn down within that year. Romspen will receive a fee equal to 3% of any advance drawn from the loan facility, and will be reimbursed for its reasonable expenses in connection therewith.
